Kiwaniis Club of Roanoke Awards $20,000 in Scholarships!

The Roanoke Kiwanis awarded $20,000 for six scholarships to high school seniors in May of this year. Scholarships are given to applicants from the six area high schools in which we sponsor Key Clubs - William Fleming, Patrick Henry, Cave Spring, Hidden Valley, Northside, Roanoke Catholic School.

Students completed an application with a personal history, their expected field of interest for college, transcripts, and extracurricular and service activities. Applicants also provided letters of recommendation. The Kiwanis Scholarship Committee read through all applications and scored them based on financial need, community service, and academic achievement. Six finalists were then interviewed by the committee.

Awards include the Franklin Award ($6,000) named for former Kiwanian Stu Franklin and his wife; the Henh Ly Award ($4,000) named for a Kiwanis Scholarship recipient who was tragically killed in the 2008 shootings at Virginia Tech; and four additional scholarship finalists were awarded $2,500 each. We would especially like to thank our sponsor – Pinnacle Bank Financial Partners.

Awards of $2,500 each were presented to Safana “Xen” Wajed, Daniel Horne, Jr, and Camila Moctezuma Carrizales of William Fleming High School and Brinna Seidel of Patrick Henry High School.

The $4,000 Henh Ly Award was given to Emily Tull of Cave Spring High School.

The $6,000 Franklin Scholarship was won by Ernesto Gomez-Meza of William Fleming High School.
